The church has a word to say about economics and "business" things these days. And why not? An uneducated and poorly clad mob and a mild worried by want and the tension of the struggle for existence make poor ground for the sowing of the seeds of spiritual fervor. Secularism and selfishness are widely practiced by the old religious martyrs demonstrated the strength of their personal faith, but failed to make the world any happier or better as it failed to prove the truth of their teachings. Health, comfort, and a happy home life are necessary for the development of spiritual growth, although there are times when religion appears to thrive better under adversity. The United Church recognizes the need for improvement in man's economic status. At its annual convention passed a resolution condemning capitalism and recommending socialization of banks, transportation, and industry.

Peter Vergin, Donkhorst leader, was a speaker released from the Winnipeg court on Monday when he became involved in the "Hobbs" case. This time it is a lawsuit by an American firm who seek to recover more than $100,000 from the Donkhorst leader and his colony for alleged violation of contract in connection with a land settlement scheme in Mexico. Vergin and his followers. Time and again they have demonstrated their aversion for Canadian laws and Canadian customs. They simply refuse to be good Canadians and if they were packed off to Mexico or somewhere Canada would be well rid of them.

BANKED FROM THE ROADS

The provincial government is taking a serious view of the careless car driver question. It is now in the line in putting into force the new legislation concerning this menace to public safety. The first driver license and car license was suspended for a few days and under the provisions of the new legislation. The first driver license was suspended for a few days and under the provisions of the new legislation. The first driver license was suspended for a few days and under the provisions of the new legislation.

Enforcement of the new legislation and banning from the roads drivers who are guilty of carelessness should tend to make the roads safer for the public. It will remove from the highways dangerous and reckless drivers and license suspension will make for the practice of greater care by the average motorist.

SCOUT TRAINING

The value of boy scout training was emphasized in Calgary a few days ago when a scout and another had rescued three boys from drowning. One of the rescued boys was so completely overcome that breathing had ceased, but by applying artificial respiration he learned in his training, the boy scout revived the victim. Thus we see again the great practical value of the training the boy scout receives. It is something which no boy should miss, something which he will find useful throughout his whole life.

There is another side to the training of a boy scout, one that is also a very valuable feature. It is the training he gets in teamwork, self-reliance, good citizenship, and in general character building.

Lack of interest in the boy scout movement in Bassano is a pity. It is a movement which should be well organized here.

CANADA ON PARADE

The World's Fair is being held this year at Chicago, but what is of more immediate importance to Canadians is the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference being held at Regina, July 24 to August 5.

Here will gather representatives of nearly every country in the world to discuss agricultural problems and show exhibits of grain, grasses, etc. The exhibition will be according to press despatches, a wonderful showing of the world's best agricultural products and will include many things besides grain.

There will be Canadian exhibits from every province in the Dominion, and there will also be displays showing the beauties of summer resorts, fishing grounds, and so on. The visitor to the exhibition will receive an education in the agricultural wealth, natural resources, and beauties of Canada.

THE WEAVER

My life is but a weaver. Between the Lord and me. I cannot choose the thread. He works it steadily. Ofttimes he weaveth sorrow. And I, in foolish pride, I say: Forgive He sees the upper. And I, the under side.

Not till the loom is silent And the shuttles cease to fly Shall God unroll the carpet And explain the reason why. The dark threads are so needful In the Weaver's skillful hand. As the threads of gold and silver In the pattern He has planned.

Of course not. The attorney shook his head. "My dear man," he said, "there are hundreds of ways of making money, but only one that's honest."

The banker looked puzzled. "What's that?" he asked. "Ah," smiled the attorney. "I thought you wouldn't know."

An American film star was applying for a passport. "Married?" "Occasionally," answered the notary.

BRITAIN LIKELY TO REPUDIATE WAR DEBT

LONDON, June 13.—Complete default of Great Britain's war debt payment due to the United States Thursday was authoritatively stated today by American newspapers. It is probable unless a midnight cabinet session reached a new decision. The break-up of the cabinet meeting brought no information as to the decision. It was previously announced that Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, will report on the debt status in the House of Commons today.

The emergency cabinet session came about on the heels of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's request before the world economic conference for the immediate settlement of the world debt question. At the same time it was revealed by a high French official that Britain had tentatively offered to pay the United States 10 per cent of the $75,000,000 interest due, but that this proposal was rejected by the Washington government.

MAY STABILIZE THE CURRENCY OF THE WORLD

LONDON, June 13.—The great world economic conference, to be held at the end of the month, is looked for a way out of their present troubles, was hardly under way today before signs of action were apparent.

It was understood from highly authoritative sources that agreement on a measure for stabilization of currencies during the period of the conference was near. British had tentatively offered to pay the United States 10 per cent of the $75,000,000 interest due, but that this proposal was rejected by the Washington government.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's chairmanship of the conference is not a question for the world and declaring emphatically that "it cannot go on." The prime minister surprised the United States by declaring the end of the question of war debts. Although he explained the war debts are not a question for the world economic conference, the British declaration declared the war debt problem "must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery is removed."

Mr. MacDonald said that he had been told by the United States that the war debt problem "must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery is removed."

SETTLERS MAY BE SUPERVISED

EDMONTON, June 13.—Possibility of instituting supervision of the three way land settlement scheme fostered by the Dominion-provincial municipal governments by which families with agricultural experience are being placed on farms, was suggested on Monday by Hon. Geo. Hoadley. At present, said the minister, although each of the three administrations concerned contribute $500 to each family settled, they do an follow-up check on them. He thinks it both desirable and necessary that there should be more especially as the financial consideration involved would be small.

WORLD'S GRAIN SHOW

—A group of Canadian prairie farmers who can possibly do so should plan to attend the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina, July 24 to August 5, says the U.F.A. Newspaper, Calgary. "Those who will have a rare opportunity of seeing the choicest of cereals of the world on display and of enlarging their knowledge of farming methods the world over."

Elaborate plans have been made to make this world exhibition a success. Prairie farmers are fortunate in having this event held in western Canada. They have an opportunity which they should not miss. These are the days and years of change and progress. Older methods and customs are being discarded and new ones taking their place. Those grain farmers who are the most energetic, resourceful, and intelligent will make the most progress. A progressive grain farmer will know that his competitors are doing so. He will, if he can arrange it, attend the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina.

HEALTH

WHY HOBBIES?

Most of us wish to do more interesting things, outside of the work which is our daily task. There are the things of which we should make a hobby, because of the pleasure we derive from them. The hobby is a release from the routine which we are more or less committed to for various reasons.

A hobby gives pleasure and satisfaction without any consideration of financial gain. It should be widely different from many regular occupations, and it should not be costly. Above all, it should entail no competition, as it should be a perfectly free expression of a personal desire.

People vary so much in their personal desires and in their capacity for doing things that there is the greatest possible range of activities included in the hobby list. Some are selected. One man collects stamps, another goes in for photography, while still another finds his hobby at the carpenter's bench or in raising flowers. Whatever the hobby in it is play; it means doing what we really want to do.

It is healthy that we have a hobby. For the indoor worker, it is preferable that his hobby take place in his doors. The man or woman who sits all day should have a hobby that calls for muscular activity. In these desirable ways, fresh air, sunshine, exercise and mental interest are made possible. Hobbies are educational because of the opportunity they present for constructive efforts. They provide a means of gaining personal satisfaction through accomplishment, and in every way, promote mental health.

You cannot make yourself cultivate a hobby, but you should give yourself the opportunity. Your hobby will be your own, and if it provides an outlet for your energy, pleasure and satisfaction, and if it allows you to escape from business and worries, then it is a good hobby for you.

We have said amounts to this—We should have some play through our life, and one desirable form of play is to be found in hobbies. Physical and mental health benefit. Life is made more pleasant, and all in all, hobbies are recommended for everyone.

Questions, concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENT

IN TURNER VALLEY OIL FIELD. Efforts to recover additional naptha from the gas going to waste in Turner Valley oil fields in Alberta have been successful. A new absorption plant installed by the Royalite Co., largest operators in the field, is now recovering naptha from the waste gas at a rate which will mean more than 25,000 barrels annually added to the regular production of the field. The daily additional recovery made possible by this plant is expected to average 324 barrels. The total annual value of the additional naptha thus recovered in gross revenue is estimated at over $75,000.

The conservation methods put into effect by the provincial government to control wastage of gas in fact, as far as possible, are now in effect. Limiting the daily production of gas of each well to 40 per cent of the assumed open flow volume of the well. By successful experiments of some operators in increasing the naptha production from the gas by holding greater back pressure, the quantity of gas required for production of each barrel of naptha has been greatly reduced and now averages for the whole field a few points above 100,000 cubic feet of gas per barrel of naptha recovered.

Satisfaction

One thing we strive for is to give you the utmost satisfaction.

To keep our customers we must give them satisfactory service, and we are happy to say they get it. That is the reason we are able to carry on from year to year, building up a bigger and wider patronage.

The rose gardens of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, contain over 500 varieties. The June beauty which lives in the soil during its early stages, takes three years to complete its life cycle. The Carnegie Institute found 17,128 living fish, worms, shrimp and other small animals in a logwood sponge the size of a washbowl.

Postponed Indefinitely. Her: "Darling, it will have to be a long engagement."

She: "Dearest, I will wait for you until the farmers are satisfied."

This is far below the ratio existing a year or so ago.

When Buying

Was an Experiment...

"I'll try a pound of this," said grandmother, "if you are sure it's fresh."

That was sometime in the second hour of her morning's search for groceries. She went from one open barrel or open box to the next, along an unappetizing row of crackers, toast, cereals, dried fruits, lard and sugar—all in bulk. She shooed the flies away, looked at, touched and tasted each article suspiciously, and finally decided to buy or not to buy, as her judgment directed. She couldn't trust a servant to do it. It was a day's work in itself.

PUPILS DISPLAY
ART IN ANNUAL DANCE REVUE

Perhaps one of the most brilliant acts in the history of the younger set took place in the Masonic Community Hall last Friday evening when Miss Phyllis Moorhead presented her dance revue, the second of kind by her school in Bassano.

Much interest was shown by a full house and several applause for the varied numbers on the excellent bill, including the dances of Scottish and Irish national dances, acrobatics, and an excellent exhibition of classical dancing, all of which reflected great credit on the young performing party and particularly on their teacher.

Brooks was well and ably represented by Jean and Joyce Berry, Ellen Robit, Helen and Marion Stafford, Jane and Doris Swanson, and Ruth Gills.

The Bassano contingent was headed up by Kathleen Smith, Christie Playfair, Colina Morrison, Marjorie and Mary Goodie, Audrey Cawsey, Lorna and Mildred MacLean, Nan and Gordon McLean, Joan and Margaret Stenson, and Bala Bassano.

All the costumes were colorful and appropriate for the occasion, and much credit is due Miss Moorhead for her expert work and careful planning.

Mrs. Sturim, of Brooks, sang several songs to the delight of everyone and was well received. Miss Moorehead was a popular young lady who sang and recited.

Miss Alice Dean, of Medicine Hat, assisted on her piano-accompaniment and Miss Florence Playfair accompanied the dancers, and D. Summerbell accompanied Mrs. Sturim in her songs.

Beautiful bouquets and boxes of candies were distributed among the dancers, and the program closed with the singing of the national anthem. A most enjoyable dance followed.
